Louisiana State University Press. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. Hardcover. 237 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 5.9in. x 1.0in. When four black college students refused to leave the whites-only lunch counter of a Greensboro, North Carolina, Woolworths on February 1, 1960, they set off a wave of similar protests among black college students across the South. Memphis native DArmy Bailey, the freshman class president at Southern University--the largest predominantly black college in the nation--soon joined with his classmates in their own battle against segregation in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. In The Education of a Black Radical, Bailey details his experiences on the front lines of the black student movement of the early 1960s, providing a rare firsthand account of the early days of Americas civil rights struggle and a shining example of one mans struggle to uphold the courageous principles of liberty, justice, and equality. A natural leader, Bailey delivered fiery speeches at civil rights rallies, railed against school officials capitulation to segregation, joined a sit-in at the Greyhound bus station, and picketed against discriminatory hiring practices at numerous Baton Rouge businesses. On December 15, 1961, he marched at the head of two thousand Southern University students seven miles from campus to downtown Baton Rouge to support fellow students jailed for picketing. Baton Rouge police dispersed the peaceful crowd with dogs and tear gas and arrested many participants. After Bailey led a class boycott to protest the administrations efforts to quell the lingering unrest on campus, Southern University summarily expelled him. After his ejection, Bailey continued his academic journey north to Clark University in Worcester, Massachusetts, where liberal white students had established a scholarship for civil rights activists. Bailey sustained and expanded his activism in the North, and he provides invaluable eyewitness accounts of many major events from the civil rights era, including the...
