Hancock House Publishers Ltd ,Canada. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Ah Mo: Indian Legends from the Northwest, Arthur E. Griffin, Trenholme,J. Griffin, Margaret Chodos-Irvine, This book contains legends collected by Judge Arthur E Griffin from Indian tribes in Washington State. The legends were told to Judge Griffin by Indian storytellers between 1884 and 1947. The legends have been rewritten by the Judge's grandson and great-grandson to make them more pleasant for children to read. Serious students of Indian folklore should refer to the original stories which reflect the complex writing style of the period. The original stories collected by Judge Griffin can be found in research libraries, such as Suzzallo Library at the University of Washington. Indian storytellers were skilled at bringing each of the characters and animals in the legend to life through gestures and animal calls. Since the storytellers lived with the birds, fish and animals, few secrets were hidden from their keen vision. The legends were told in the lights and shadows around open fires, which gave the stories a magical quality. Some of the Indian storytellers were professionals who travelled from village to village. The Indian children were required to pay strict attention when a story was being told. To prove they were listening, the children were told to say Ah Mo at frequent intervals. As the Ah Mo's diminished, the children were whisked off to bed. The legends in this book took place in a time long ago when people, animals, and forces of nature could talk to each other. People and animals often had magical powers to do what would be impossible today. Spiders could climb into the sky and a boy could turn himself into the sun. The Indians referred to this time as having been before the change. The Indians also...
